SENATE YET DEBATES-- EVENTS MOVE ALONG REGARDLESS OF TALK

Americans Quit Mexico City---German Ship Bears Guns to Huerta---England Shows Friendship to U.S.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Lodge today opened the Senate debate on the resolution justifying the President in the use of the armed forces of the United States in demanding reparation for affronts to America. He defined the powers of the President and Congress. He emphasized the Senate's inherent responsibility, citing that it took Congress longer to pass the Spanish war declaration. Senator La Follette here interrupted him, asserting that the latter consumed seven days.

Senator Lodge declared that the insult to the flag demands atonement, saying that all parties are behind President Wilson, but demanding that the resolution include a reference to the Americans murdered in Mexico. "This is an effort to preserve peace rather than to propagate war. If Mexicans have committed acts impeaching our honor, it is plain that it was a studied insult. If we declare war let us not engage in the sniveling act of condoning acts justifying war, and adopt the resolution."

Shively of Indiana, acting chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, replied to Senator Lodge, saying: "It can be too late to preserve peace, but it is never too late to declare war."

EARLY CONFERENCE POINTED TO GRAVITY OF EVENTS

WASHINGTON, April 21.—An early conference between Secretary of State Bryan and Secretary of the Navy Daniels, today indicated that grave developments are feared. It is hinted that the conference referred to the approach to Vera Cruz of a German ship bearing ammunition for General Huerta. This the state officials refused to deny or to affirm. Secretary Daniels, in fact, refused to answer any questions regarding the conference until after a cabinet meeting. Before the cabinet meeting Bryan, Daniels and Admiral Blue again conferred. Arriving at the cabinet meeting, Secretary Daniels admitted that he had received a wireless message from Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz, but he refused to divulge the nature of the message.

Early this morning President Wilson began the consideration of over-night recommendations made by the Army and Navy Strategy Board. It is known that the board suggested the desirability of starting an expeditionary force to Vera Cruz immediately after the blockade should be declared. It was agreed at the cabinet meeting that all the secretaries were to use their individual influence to hasten the adoption by Congress of the resolution supporting the president's policy. The Strategy Board made it plain to the cabinet officials that it is certain a big supply of arms and ammunition of modern field artillery is arriving at Vera Cruz from Germany and that it is desirous to act speedily to prevent them from clearing through the customs house.

POWERFUL GUNS CARRIED BY GERMAN VESSEL

The President learned today that the German ship carried two hundred Krupp machine guns of the latest model and two million rounds of ammunition to protect the Vera Cruz and Mexico City railroad. It is not known whether the cargo has yet been landed.

AMERICAN EXODUS FROM MEXICO CITY

British Ambassador Cecil Spring-Rice has received a Mexico City dispatch that Charge O'Shaughnessy has ordered all Americans and foreigners to leave, and that the foreigners are complying. Secretary Bryan confirmed the report of the exodus from Mexico City, now in progress on special trains. A flood of messages has come from O'Shaughnessy, the contents of which are yet secret.

HOUSE PASSED RESOLUTION IN VOTE OF 337 TO 37

A joint resolution justifying the president's purpose of using the armed forces of the United States to enforce its demands against General Huerta growing out of the arrest at Tampico of the American Bluejackets, passed the House last night by a vote of 337 to 37, after a spirited debate. The Senate session, beginning at midnight last night, considered an amended resolution striking out Huerta's name, but failed to agree to its passage, adjourning till noon today. The resolution if adopted in its amended form must go back to the house involving the possibility of a long wrangle.

HERMOSA BEACH COUNCIL PUTS BAN ON POOL ROOM

HERMOSA BEACH, April 21.—This city has put the ban on pool rooms and those lovers of the cue game will have to seek other beaches for pool and billiards. At a meeting of the board of trustees a letter was read requesting the board to grant a pool room license. The board unanimously voted the proposition down.

VERA CRUZ, April 21.—Acting on orders given by British Admiral Craddock, the English steamer Elzorro refused today to transport munitions of war from Vera Cruz to Tampico for Huerta. It already had shipped its cargo when Craddock ordered the discharge, explaining that England's friendly relations with America forbade a British vessel running by the American fleet with war materials.

FLEET QUICKENS SPEED ON WAY TO TAMPICO

ABOARD FLAGSHIP ARKANSAS, April 21. (By Wireless.—Admiral Badger said this morning he expects the flagship Arkansas, leading the Atlantic Squadron, to reach Tampico by 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. The squadron is increasing its speed. Drilling and rifle practice are going on steadily. The big guns have not yet been unlimbered.

BORDER TOWNS ARE SAID TO BE IN DANGER

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Fears are expressed in official circles that the inhabitants of the American border towns were in danger. Secretary Garrison admitted that he was in receipt of telegrams asking for protection. General Bliss has been ordered to provide military protection wherever needed.

EVERY STATE ADVISES MILITARY READY TO MOVE

Major General Wood remained in Secretary Garrison's office last night. He kept a continuous reservation for a south-bound train. The Quarter-master's Department had transports ready to move the First Army Division on a moment's notice. Every state has notified the Bureau of Military Affairs that its militia is ready.

TORPEDO FLOTILLA HAS REACHED GALVESTON

GALVESTON, April 21.—The First Division torpedo flotilla has just arrived. The navy officials here were surprised, as they believed them near Tampico. They are ordered to accompany the army transports, which are awaiting orders to sail for Mexico.

TORPEDO BOAT FLEET ORDERED TO VERA CRUZ

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Navy Department ordered the Pensacola torpedo fleet to proceed to Vera Cruz instead of to Tampico.

HARRINGTON BROWN IS TO BE LOS ANGELES P. M.

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—It is officially stated that President Woodrow Wilson decided yesterday to name a former college mate as postmaster for Los Angeles to succeed William H. Harrison. The appointee is Harrington Brown, life-long Democrat, oil operator and horticulturist.

MAJ. GEN. WOOD RETAINED AS HEAD OF ARMY IN PRESENT WAR CRISIS

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The man whom Roosevelt dubbed "a bully good soldier" and whom he advanced because of that belief in his ability, even though he was not a West Pointer, was to have stepped down from the highest active position in the army tomorrow, but the prospect of war with Mexico changes events entirely. He is Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army. He will still head the army. His four-year term as chief executive officer of the army would have automatically expired tomorrow. He would immediately have become chief of the Department of the East, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York—the choicest post in the army. W. W. Witherspoon, now assistant chief of staff, would have succeeded to Wood's post as chief of the army had the change been made.

Wood's rise in the army has been spectacular. He was first heard of as colonel of the famous Rough Riders. He was a physician and an army surgeon, a man of extraordinary personal magnetism. Roosevelt picked him as an ideal type of commander. Personally he and Wood were cronies. Wood rode horseback like a centaur; so did Roosevelt. The Rough Riders waxed famous after Santiago, and Wood also. He was called into the regular army and went ahead by leaps and bounds. His rapid promotion was the cause of considerable comment in the army, and was accentuated by the old fight

FRIEND HERE SAID MARSHAL AFTER HIM

Mrs. Mary J. Neill Principal Loser by His Residence in Santa Ana

Edward M. McKinsey is in jail in Seattle, and will be brought to Los Angeles for trial on a charge of selling horses mortgaged to the McCain of Santa Ana.

McKinsey is the man whose sudden departure from Santa Ana last August placed a good many persons who had trusted him upon the anxious seat.

No criminal charge was ever brought against McKinsey here. His operations were generally too smooth to leave a criminal procedure possible. The heaviest loser by McKinsey's stay here was Mrs. Mary J. Neill. She went on several notes as surety for McKinsey, and she has had to pay two of them, aggregating about $2,000. In one instance she declared the signature to be a forgery, but a jury found it genuine.

One note for $500, declared by her to be a forgery, was met by W. Frank Harris, who sued for the loss and got judgment, and secured a lien on McKinsey's property on East Washington avenue. This property was mortgaged heavily.

The charge against McKinsey in Los Angeles is that he sold horses mortgaged to a Santa Ana horse dealer. The animals were sold by him to Snowden's Horse Market. City Marshal Jernigan located the horses.

Since the sale was in Los Angeles, the criminal charge was brought there. McKinsey disappeared, and nothing was heard of him by the officers until Saturday, when City Marshal Jernigan got a telegram from the chief of police of Seattle, asking Jernigan if he wanted McKinsey. Jernigan had no warrant. He notified the sheriff's office in Los Angeles of the wire, and in answer to a telegram from that office the Seattle chief said that there was no criminal charge against McKinsey at Seattle. At Seattle McKinsey had been buying horses, paying a little cash and giving his note. He sold the horses for cash, and bought others in the same way. When the holders of notes tried to collect they failed utterly. It was thought McKinsey could be prosecuted, and he was arrested. In his pocket was a letter written by a friend in Santa Ana to McKinsey, telling McKinsey that City Marshal Jernigan was trying to locate him. It was through that letter that the Seattle chief came to wire to Jernigan.

RUFFIAN ATTACKS REDLANDS WOMAN

REDLANDS, April 21.—An unidentified man attacked Mrs. W. J. Korn here today. When she cried for help the ruffian threw carbolic acid in her face. Mrs. Korn is seriously, although it is not believed permanently, hurt. Her assailant escaped. An acid phial and a box of cayenne pepper were found near by.

STRIKE LEADER KILLED; TENT COLONY BURNED

It is reported that Louis Tikas, the leader of the Greek strikers in the Ludlow strike district, was killed late last night in the long fight, and that the Ludlow tent colony was destroyed by fire.

Women and children of the colony are being cared for at the Ludlow station. A large body of strikers are said to have taken refuge in an arroyo near the colony and are surrounded by troops.

Several hundred strikers left Trinidad last night in the direction of Ludlow. Other strikers are said to be en route from Huerfano county and Aguilar to Ludlow.

Company C of Lamar was ordered back to the strike zone last night by General Chase.

Latest Report

DENVER, April 21.—Advices at noon from Ludlow, where the strikers and militia battled last night, confirmed the report that nine were killed, including four strikers, four children and one woman. The strikers claim that eight children were killed. This the militia denies.

AMERICANS ANXIOUS FOR WASHINGTON NEWS

(BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD) MEXICO CITY, April 21.—The Americans who are still here are anxiously waiting for news from Washington regarding Congressional action. It is generally expected that Congress will vest the president with full power to act. Except for Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy of the United States, the entire diplomatic corps conferred last night with Foreign Minister Rojas. General Huerta was absent.

Sir Lionel Carden, late British minister to Mexico, but recently appointed as British minister to Brazil, is expected to arrive today. He will attempt to persuade Huerta to yield to the demand of the United States, but it is generally believed that he has but little chance of success.

Huerta today again assured the American Transportation Committee that in the event of war he will give Americans ample protection.

COLLISION OCCURRED ON JANUARY 11TH

Man and Woman Bring Actions Against Resident of Santa Ana

Today two actions for damages were brought against Joseph A. Wilkes of 2010 North Bush street, Santa Ana. The plaintiffs seek awards for injuries alleged to have been received by them when a motorcycle ran into Wilkes' automobile on the Long Beach boulevard on January 11, 1914.

W. E. Baldwin is suing for $43,595.15 and Jessie Stone for $20,535. It is understood that the plaintiffs live in Long Beach. Attorneys in each case are Swaffield & Swaffield.

Baldwin states that he is a riveter of steel plates on ocean-going vessels, and the woman is a dressmaker. She was riding as passenger on Baldwin's machine. They assert that Wilkes turned from the right side of the street to the left, and met the oncoming motorcycle. The accident occurred between 6 and 6:30 o'clock in the evening. Baldwin states that one leg was permanently injured. The woman alleges that she was hurt internally and received a bad injury to one leg.

FOURTEEN HOUR BATTLE WITH STRIKERS

12 Said Killed in Ludlow District of Coal Strike Zone in Colorado

DENVER, April 21.—With the Trinidad strike section practically isolated today, it is impossible to get accurate information concerning the reported fatalities in yesterday's fourteen-hour battle between the striking coal miners and the militia. There are persistent reports that twelve strikers were killed, but the reports are denied by the local officials of the United Mine Workers. A renewal of the battle was expected today.

That there were to be things doing at the meeting of the Trustees last night had been whispered ever since it became apparent that Henry Terry was to succeed W. G. Hagen on the city board. On the old board C. C. Stoner and E. H. Smith were in the minority. At the election held this month Stoner was re-elected and Terry succeeded Hagen, who was not a candidate. Stoner, Smith and Terry joined forces, and the landslide was soon dated.

Last night the five Trustees went behind closed doors, and a heated conference was held. When it ended, Richards and Dittmer walked out, picked up their hats and left the place. The three remaining Trustees went ahead with the meeting, producing the resignations of Richards and Dittmer, which had been written by those officials during the conference. The resignations were accepted, and a meeting is to be held tomorrow night to fill the vacancies.

The changes in appointive offices were then made. Except the changes already mentioned, none was made, the other appointive officers securing re-appointment.

U. S. GUNS TRAINED ON TIA JUANA

San Diegans Flock to Scene; Troop D on Duty at Calexico Point

SAN DIEGO, April 21.—It was persistently reported on what seemed fair authority that Major Davis, commanding Fort Rosecrans, had been ordered to prepare to seize immediately the Mexican customs houses in Mexicali and Tia Juana. The same report had the supply ship Iris with a landing party proceed to La Paz, the capital of Lower California, while other forces had taken Ensenada. The federal troops located above the town have their machine guns trained. A crowd is flocking from San Diego to witness an expected engagement.

The American troops have occupied the center of the Little Landers Colony near the border. The federal garrison at Tia Juana numbers 300. Before noon, the heights were lined with San Diegans hoping to see a battle.

TROOP D AT CALEXICO TO PROTECT INTERESTS THERE

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—Troop D, First Cavalry, en route from Monterey Presidio to Calexico, left Los Angeles at 3:30 o'clock this morning, en route to reach Calexico in time to make camp before night. The troops are being rushed to Imperial Valley in response to a call for additional forces there for protection. The Mexicans at Calexico have two machine guns, 250 infantry, 75 cavalry. In event of hostilities the Mexicans may destroy the headgears at Sharps and the East Side Headings and the Encina Hume.

TROOPS LAND AT VERA CRUZ, MEXICO, TODAY

Official Information Withheld---Shively Confirms Report---Fletcher Had Free Hand From Daniel

NEW YORK, April 21.—A coded dispatch from Wm. G. Shepherd to the United Press, New York, declared that American troops had entered Mexico at Vera Cruz today. The message was received at 3:10 o'clock. Strict censorship has prevailed in Mexico all day. The message contained no details. It is assumed that Admiral Fletcher acted to the letter under Secretary Daniels' order to "use his judgment."

LANDING REPORT CONFIRMED, SAYS SENATOR SHIVELY

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Shively confirmed the United Press dispatch regarding the landing at Vera Cruz, declining to divulge the source of his information. He said there had been no difficulty in landing the marines and bluejackets.

Secretary Bryan continued to deny that he had received any official dispatches.

DANIELS GAVE FREE REIN TO FLETCHER

WASHINGTON, April 21.—When shown the Shepherd dispatch, Secretary of the Navy Daniels said: "I have received no information for the Navy Department as yet."

Secretary Daniels said his latest orders to Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz were: "Use your judgment." This was supposed to be relative to the German ship bearing arms for Huerta.

The afternoon passed without further details from Vera Cruz.

Although not official, Secretary Daniels raised no question as to the accuracy of the report and eagerly asked for all the news the United Press was able to give him. There is a general belief that the landing was the result of the order given Fletcher to act on his own initiative.

In the matter of the arrival of the German warship with munitions of war, the president's hope that the blockade would be effective before its arrival was shattered by the failure of Congress to act promptly. International law prohibited the seizure of supplies on the German ship. Two courses apparently seemed open to Fletcher. One was to seize the customs house, thereby receiving the cargo when it landed; the other was to wait until it landed, then seize the customs house. It seemed clear that he used his own judgment and ordered an immediate landing.

From a high source it was learned this afternoon that Secretary Bryan intended to notify the powers before night that at the end of twenty-four hours a blockade would be effective. As nearly as can be learned he intended to send such notice, regardless of the action of Congress. Following the declaration of a blockade and the occupation of Vera Cruz, it is said the administration plans to pause, to permit Huerta another opportunity to yield.

IN SHAKE-UP ORANGE TRUSTEES RESIGNED

ORANGE, April 21.—Finding themselves in the minority, City Trustees G. G. Richards and Adolph Dittmer resigned last night. Their resignations came after a secret session in which they found that the majority of the board was going to put through a shake-up program.

The shake-up occurred. Herbert Sutton, city marshal for about two months, lost the job, and J. A. Crawshaw was put in his place. W. M. Brown is no longer city attorney. That place is held by L. M. Hartwick. Dr. Domann was succeeded as health officer by Dr. Chapline.

WILL PROBE MONROVIA ATTACK ON EDITOR

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—A rigid investigation of the attack made Saturday night upon C. N. Whitaker, editor of the Monrovia Messenger, by ten prominent Monrovia citizens, will be begun today by the county grand jury. Acting Mayor G. R. Tifal, City Marshal Miles Newman and other officials and residents of Monrovia will be called to testify before the inquisitorial body.

Newman has admitted that he knew of the plan to attack the aged editor, who was threatened with lynching and tied to a tree, where he was left to suffer. Rev. Mr. Geyer, connected with the case, denies that he counseled any violence.

HALLADAY IS DISMISSED TODAY

Finley to Be Engineer, Newland is Highway Commissioner

CHANGES MADE IN GOOD ROADS CONTROL

Chief Engineer Did Not Resign So Office Was Declared Vacant

Chief Engineer D. S. Halladay's connection with the County Highway Commission ends on May 1, at which time the office, by resolution passed today, becomes vacant.

S. H. Finley will be chief engineer to succeed Halladay. Finley resigned as a Highway Commissioner, and the Board of Supervisors appointed W. T. Newland of Huntington Beach to fill the vacancy.

Halladay did not take advantage of the opportunity given him to resign as chief engineer of the County Highway Commission. This afternoon a resolution was passed ending on May 1 the employment of Halladay as chief engineer. Halladay was given vacation on pay from today until that time.

Finley was elected as assistant to the engineering department until a meeting of the commission in May. At that time Finley will be elected chief engineer.

The Board of Supervisors ratified the action of the commission. Finley's resignation as commissioner was received, and immediately a ballot was taken to fill the vacancy. The vote stood:

W. T. Newland, Huntington Beach, 3; Frank E. Santa Ana, 1; Thomas Doyle, Laguna Beach, 1.

Newland is one of the best known residents of the Huntington Beach section, having been prominent for years in farming activities. He is now a banker at the beach town. He has always been deeply interested in development affairs of the county.

Declared Vacant

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the Highway Commission declared the office of chief engineer vacant, effective May 1. Commissioner R. J. McFadden offered the resolution, and Commissioner S. H. Finley seconded. The vote was announced by President D. C. Pixley as unanimous.

"The first week of this month," said Pixley, "Mr. Halladay was notified that this action was contemplated, and that he should be given an opportunity to resign. At first he seemed inclined to resign, then he decided not to hand in a resignation. I say this to show that Mr. Halladay had due notice of this intended action, and that the action was not hurried."

MILITIA MEASURE HURRIED THROUGH

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Under the spur of a letter from the secretary of war, the senate yesterday afternoon passed the militia organization bill. This measure is expected to increase the available force of the national guard by several thousand men and also to increase the efficiency of the militia.

The bill already has passed the House. It provides "that when volunteer forces are to be raised the president shall issue his proclamation stating the number of men desired for each army corps and department within such limits as may be fixed by law and he shall cause such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the terms of this act as may be necessary for the purpose of raising, organizing and receiving into the service the men called for."

CITY TO PUT ON ONE SPEED CATCHER

Grubb and Alderman Vote for It Under Protest; Ey Says No

ELECTRIC WIRING RULES JUMPED ON

Investigation of Conditions to Be Made by Committee of Three

The city is going to put on a speed cop to head off the maniacs.

The city's rules and regulations for wiring are to be investigated along with a hearing on a complaint made by the Cope Electric Co. against Inspector Wm. McCulloch. Cope says there is no check on some kinds of wiring work, and McCulloch's answer to him was that he (McCulloch) kept strictly within his powers under the law.

While the discussion about the speed cop developed the most heat in discussion, the agitation in both matters will result in considerable good. It is freely admitted that the city's ordinances are exceedingly lame when

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

It comes to wiring regulations. It was also freely admitted by every one that the speeders own the streets, at present.

Who Shall Pay?

McPhee and Greenleaf were in favor of putting on a motorcycle officer. Grubb and Alderman also favored the project, and voted for it, but they hated like sin to see the city pay the cop. Ey voted no.

When the state law went into effect, the city attorney ruled that the city's speed ordinances were no longer of use. He ruled that all fines collected under the law should go to the county. The city had maintained two speed cops, who more than made the fines pay their salaries. These officers were dropped from the city pay roll on the theory that if the county got the money the county ought to pay the speed killers.

"Since we took off the motorcycle officers," said McPhee last night, "speeding is worse than ever. The speeders own Broadway from end to end. The district attorney hopes to get the supervisors to put on a motorcycle officer. All cases will be tried in the township court, and the city will not have to pay jury fees. The district attorney proposed that the city also put on a man, and I favor the plan strongly. We have got to do something to protect human lives on our streets. I move that we employ a motorcycle cop for two months."

Greenleaf promptly seconded. Grubb said he was going to vote for the motion, but wanted to get a few remarks out of his system. He said the city had been told that it was absolutely impossible for the county to hire speed cops, yet now the district attorney had found a way to hire one. Why not hire two? The county gets all the money, and in this matter it looked as though the county was putting one over on the city.

Alderman said he guessed the city should do some policing without monetary return, but he did not like the proposition. He said he was willing to be imposed on, though, for certainly something should be done to stop speeding.

Then ensued a debate between McPhee and Grubb. Mayor Ey must have been in a liberal mood, for he allowed each trustee to speak on the subject seventeen times, more or less. Neither convinced the other. McPhee explained his earnestness by saying that he was for saving life, and Grubb's explanation was that he was "entitled to a roar for being forced to do something he did not want to do."

McPhee's motion carried with Alderman, McPhee, Greenleaf and Grubb voting yes and Ey voting no. Ey said the city had no business hiring a cop for the county.

Grubb said that the city officers frequently make arrests, the fines going to the county. Yesterday $80 for disturbing the peace went that route.

City Attorney Heathman said that while the cases could be tried in the City Recorder's court, it was the custom in this city to try all infractions of state laws in the township court.

"That policy ought to be changed," said Grubb.

Do It or City Will

Alderman stated that a conference had been held with the joint pole committee and the committee had agreed to prepare blue prints at once for the joint use of poles on one or more streets. Alderman moved that unless the committee within ten days places the cement around the poles placed on sidewalks the city do it and charge to the committee. Carried.

Turns on Juice

John Cope of the Cope Electric Company stated in a communication to the board that his company endeavors to follow strictly the regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, but that conditions in Santa Ana are such that though a fee is paid for electric inspection, there is no guarantee that wiring is installed right, by which Cope evidently meant "right" to be accorded to the Fire Underwriters. He said he had facts and notes to present. Cope was called upon and he detailed a number of instances in which he said the regulations here made danger. The electric inspector refused to take a hand when some one put gas pipe in a house and disturbed the wiring, the inspector saying he had no authority under the law. Wm. McCulloch is the inspector.

Clerk Burke said the city's electric wiring ordinance is an old-timer and useless.

Alderman, Greenleaf and Grubb were named as a committee to investigate the charges against the inspector, to meet with the inspector and get what information that is possible concerning conditions and needed changes.

Alderman wanted an ordinance stating that the wiring regulations of the city shall be the same as those of the Fire Underwriters. The city attorney said the ordinance would be illegal, unless the entire regulations were published in full. That would cost a pile of money.

Paving Proposals

Bond for Contractor Huberman asked that a petition for paving French between First and Third be granted. The pavement proposed is a four-inch base and an inch and a half wearing surface. Of 1,000 foot frontage, 244 is signed. Grubb moved to grant the petition, but got no second.

A similar petition asked for paving Spurgeon from First to Third, with 500 feet signed. Grubb got no second to his motion.

In effect, the contracts were referred back to Huberman for more signatures.

Waiting for Oil

Grubb stated that the committee is waiting for heavy oil and rock before attempting repair work on French and Spurgeon streets.

Mrs. Bradley was voted $40 to pay for damage done by storm water at her place on Broadway.

Map of Tract

Attorney Bishop presented the map of the Polytechnic Villa Tract, and stated that the owners will give the bond to grade the streets, sewer the tract and sidewalk all streets. He said contracts had been given for the sale of some of the property. City Engineer Finley said the contemplated work will cost $19,000 or $20,000. In conformity with the new policy of the board to require a bond for the carrying out of the work in new subdivisions, a bond of $5,000 was settled upon. A. J. Visel asked for five years in which to do the work, saying the near-in streets would be improved first. Visel said the company is composed of Holmes, Jones, Farnsworth and Visel. The map was accepted.

E. V. Whitney asked for a permit to lay a 12-inch pipe-line across South Main about 100 feet north of the south city limits. Granted. Whitney asked for lights on South Main, south of McCulloch street. Alderman stated that residents on Broadway, south of First, complain that the lights are not located advantageously and a new light is needed. Referred to light committee.

A request was made to remove two cypress trees on French street between First and Second. Granted.

The resolution of the Ebell Society asking the City Trustees to join in an effort to get property owners to clean up parking lots and lots during the last week of April was read. The city attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution along the line suggested.

D. A. Dale's application for a plumber's license was granted.

Heathman reported that West Fourth street had been cleaned of weeds except 100 feet, and if the city desired, that 100 feet could be cleaned up by the street superintendent and charged up to the owners, under the new state law, as a judgment.

McPhee said Alderman has under consideration a plan for getting weeds cleared off.

"Can't you put the cost on the taxes?" asked McPhee. "Such a law is in operation in other towns."

"Such a procedure would be illegal," said Heathman. Under the new law, Heathman proposed to enter judgment and record an abstract of judgment.

It would pile up cost to about $7 per lot.

Grubb said he thought the procedure should be carried out as against the 100 feet on West Fourth, since other property owners on the street had cleaned up their frontages on the threat of the law. "Are we four flushers?" asked he.

Alderman objected to the procedure as it piles up an expense of $7 to $10 against the lot to pay for $1 worth of work.

The matter is in the hands of the street superintendent.

Approved It

Two gas experts representing the city and two representing the Southern Counties Gas Company reported yesterday, favoring McPhee's ordinance for testing gas, advising some minor changes. This ordinance will be re-written and presented at the next meeting.

Ordinances regulating the size of berry boxes and making it necessary to sewer, grade and sidewalk new additions were passed. The ordinances prohibiting public speaking on Main between Third and Fifth and on Fourth between Bush and Sycamore were passed. McPhee voted against the public speaking ordinance, saying it would be a trouble-maker.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution for paving Washington avenue between Main street and the S. P.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy Thick

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.—Advertisement.

KING AND QUEEN OF ENGLAND ON VISIT

Foreign Secretary With Them on Trip to France—Visit May Be Diplomatic

FRANCE TO GREET ROYAL
PARTY WITH MUCH POMP

First State Visit Ever Made to France by a British Royal Couple

PARIS, April 21.—King George V and Queen Mary of England, accompanied by a numerous suite, arrived here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. They were met by President Poincaré. For the next three days they will be the official guests of the French Republic. The British Foreign Minister, Sir Edward Grey, accompanied the King, and though there is nothing unusual in the fact that the foreign secretary should accompany a monarch on a trip outside his country, it is generally believed here that advantage will be taken of the occasion to bring France and England to a better understanding. During just the past two years French diplomats have repeatedly asked themselves just what France might expect from England in case of a serious European war. Sir Edward Grey, it is believed, will supply the answer while here. Though retaining its old name of entente cordiale, it is rumored that what amounts practically to an alliance will be initiated by the representatives of the two powers here within the next three days.

Others in the royal party are the King's Chamberlain, Lord Acton; his private secretary, Lord Stamfordham; his aide-de-camp, Colonel Lambton; his equerries, Sir F. Ponsonby and Major Lord Charles Nairne; the Queen's Lady-in-Waiting, the Duchess of Devonshire; a maid of honor, Lady Desborough; Lord Shaftesbury, her chamberlain; and Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to Sir Edward Grey.

In spite of the stirring political campaign and the general elections next Sunday, the British King and Queen's stay will be marked by a brilliancy never surpassed on similar occasions here. Coming by way of Dover and Calais, the crossing being accomplished in less than an hour aboard the royal yacht, the party arrived by special train, representatives of the French government meeting France's guests at Calais, where the shore batteries boomed a salute. In Paris traffic was turned into other streets than those traversed by the King and Queen in their transit from station to their quarters at the French foreign office, and a magnificent array of troops lined the two sides of the thoroughfare from beginning to end of the journey.

This is the first official visit paid to any country by King George and Queen Mary. It is also the first time that a British royal couple ever paid a state visit to the French Republic. It is estimated that at least $100,000 will be spent on the special features of the entertainments provided for the couple and the apartments in the foreign office, Quay d'Orsay, have been specially furnished and decorated for their majesties.

It was at first decided that the King and Queen would stay at the magnificent British Embassy in the Rue St. Honore, where special suites exist for their exclusive use and which are closed at other times. But as scarcely a hundred yards separate the entrance of the embassy and that of the Elysee, President Poincaré's official residence, the switch to the foreign office headquarters of a mile away was made in order to give the numerous processions between the two points room to form and also to be seen.

A state dinner and reception at the Elysee; a huge military revue at Vincennes; a gala at the Opera; a special steeplechase program at the famous Auteuil track, and other features are on the program. The steeplechase races will be held on St. George's Day, April 23, and the annual military steeplechase will be renamed the Prix de St. George in honor of George V.

The royal party will return to London April 24.

WARRANT FOR LIGHT COMES

He Declares He Has Sent
Money East for His Three Children

The threat that Lou Light would be arrested for wife desertion became a reality in Los Angeles when a warrant was wired from the East. Light lived here for several months, and published a small book called "The Modern Hobo," which he peddled. The Times says:

Louis Le Clair, who calls himself Lou Light and is a writer of pamphlets on prison reform, anti-child labor, reform school discipline and professional "hoboing," and professes to be the "original" fighter against child labor in American factories, was arrested last night by Detectives Browning and Ingram on a telegraphic warrant from Oconto Falls, Wis., charging him with the alleged abandonment of his wife and three minor children.

Lou Light has been in Southern California for the past seven months attempting to float his magazine, which proposes to "reform" everything from prisons and child-laboring factories, to the length of slits in women's skirts. "Reform" is the watchword of his life and all appears to be grist that reaches his "reform" mill.

Light states "there is nothing to" the warrant from Oconto Falls. His wife's family, he says, has "ribbed up" the charge and "egged on" his wife into making a complaint before Prosecuting Attorney Adolph Lehner of Oconto county, from whose office the warrant upon which Light was arrested emanated.

Light admits he has three children, the eldest of whom is only 9 years old. There is little fear they will ever be compelled to work before they are of proper age, according to their father, who says he has sent money to his wife for the support of the children ever since he parted from them, several years ago. "Hoboing" has been Light's chief business for the past several years and a 100-page book testifies to the marvelous experiences he says he has had "on the road," riding the roads, the roofs and the interiors of "slide-door Pullmans." He had several of his brain-children with him when arrested. He spent last night in the city jail.

Mrs. Addie Stockslager Sues
Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company

Mrs. Addie Stockslager of Santa Ana has brought suit for $7500 against the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co. E. A. Stockslager, her husband, took out the insurance in 1908. It was a $5000 policy with a clause allowing $7500 in case of death by certain kinds of accidents. Stockslager was electrocuted on his ranch at Hemet on November 4, 1913, while at work upon a pumping plant. In the action brought against the insurance company Mrs. Stockslager is represented by Attorneys Williams & Rutan.

Thomas O. Rainey of Anaheim asks letters on the estate of his father, William H. The estate is worth $6000. There are several heirs, the petitioner being the only one living in this county. Melrose & Ames represent him.

Edgar J. Bolles seeks the administration of the estate of Margaret Bolles. The estate is valued at $1000. C. A. Kingston is attorney for petitioner.

SUGAR FACTORY IS PLEASED WITH IT

ANAHEIM, April 21.—As estimated by the Anaheim Sugar Company, the beet crops will surpass previous years both in size and quality. The company has 9000 acres under contract and anticipates a bumper season, owing to the excellence of the beets, which are further advanced than at this time last year. The campaign will open not later than July, and it is expected that the big factory will run full capacity throughout the season.

SOON FINISH ROAD TO LINE

San Bernardino Has Half Work
Done for New Route
Over Hills

W. A. Wassum of Santa Ana and W. T. Brown of Fullerton, as a committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, on Friday were with the San Bernardino county supervisors and a number of citizens of Chino on a trip of inspection over a part of the proposed road over the hills between Chino and Olinda.

San Bernardino has finished about half of its road to the county line, and will be through with it by June 1. A gang of prisoners is being worked. The road is a 20-foot road with no grade over four per cent. It will be scenic, as it winds around among oaks and sycamores.

The party went to the divide and looked down on Orange county. Orange county has given instructions for the survey of its part of the road, and there is little question but that this county will complete its work in time for the use of the road this summer. Orange county has about three miles to build, while San Bernardino county has eight. This county's expenditure will be about $3000 and San Bernardino's $8000.

UNDERWEAR

THE ATHENA LOW-NECK GARMENT
(KNIT)

MUCH PRIZED BY WOMEN FOR SUMMER WEAR

The Athena low-neck sleeveless garment is tailored—cut to fit—narrowing to the back's proportion—with extra fullness allowed for the bust. The outline of the garment is curved (not square)—it follows the line of the bust. It is also cut lower in the front than in the back, so it will not show beneath transparent yokes or blouses.

There is a great feeling of comfort in the Athena low-neck sleeveless garment. It positively eliminates the irritating slip of the shoulder-straps down over the arms. Neither need it be tied to uncomfortable security by ribbon or tape.

Athena Underwear is made in dainty, cool fabrics for Summer wear, in all the pretty low-neck designs in union suits and separate garments.

Athena has seven special features. Ask to see them.

TWO WAYS OF CONDUCTING POLITICAL AGITATION

While two militant suffragettes were being tried at Belfast, Ireland, the other day, their supporters made such a din that the presiding judge could not make himself heard. One of the defendants hurled a gripsack at the judge's head.

Over in this country, no suit cases have been thrown at any judges. Nor has even a pebble been cast into any politician's front window, so far as the newspapers know. No blood has been shed.

In England the suffragists go on hunger strikes and refuse to be fed. Over here they attack their opponents at afternoon teas with lavish and more or less indigestible supplies of cookies, candy, wafers and punch.

It all goes to show how much more effective printers' ink is than assault and arson. The suffrage cause is making practically no advance in England. In this country it has gained rapidly and more accessions are confidently claimed.

Some of our readers will say the advance is due to the merit of the cause. Others will allege that it is like the case of the unjust judge in the parable, who granted the petition because he was tired of the continual pleading. But in any event, the rapid progress of the campaign in this country shows the power of public debate lawfully conducted—especially in the newspapers.

It takes a lot of resolution to promote any successful kind of public agitation. A whole brood of new causes are started every year. Many of them are worthy of success. Their promoters write and speak enthusiastically for a few months or years. Then they get tired of public indifference or hostility and quit.

The advance of the suffrage cause shows what can be done by determined people, who are not afraid of speaking their convictions, and who persistently keep hammering away in the newspapers and in public debate.

ALCOHOLISM AND MORTALITY

The Paris correspondent of the Journal of the American Medical Association reports additional extracts from the article by M. Henri Schmidt, Deputy from the Vosges. He says:

"From other causes than tuberculosis there are more deaths in the west than in the no-alcoholic regions, both in the city and the country. Infant mortality is particularly high in the west, owing to various causes; hereditary weakness, insufficient maternal care and bad food. Alcohol is sometimes put in the nursing bottle. It is in Normandy that the greatest number of alcoholics is found. The infant mortality was about 11.6 in 1906 in le Gers and about 22.2 in the Seine-Inférieure. It is also in the regions where there is a heavy consumption of alcohol and absinthe that the largest portion of still-births occur. Schmidt has calculated the following average for the period 1874-1904:

DEATHS FOR EACH THOUSAND CONCEPTIONS.

1874-1885-1895-1884-1894-1904	3.43	3.65	3.80

IN THE PROGRESSIVE PARTY IS THE HOPE OF THE NATION

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE IN CALIFORNIA OUTLOOK.

The California Outlook has from time to time said many things intended to be kindly of President Wilson. He is a great man—measured from any viewpoint, by any standard. The Progressives generally admire his course, and good citizens generally respect and honor him. He is doing rather fantastically remarkable things with his party; but he, and not the party, is responsible for the good things that have been accomplished by the Wilson administration during the year past. Under Clark or Underwood the year's record would be unthinkable. And with all due respect for the President's leadership, it has done nothing fundamentally progressive. It has kept a foolish tariff pledge without scandal. It has made a step toward currency reform. It has started to establish the Alaskan railroad. It has broadened the scope of the parcel post. And its minor achievements have been excellent. But none of these achievements, great or small, has run counter to the doctrine of state's rights. None of these achievements has in any way indicated that in the core of the Democratic party there is a deep-seated, permanent conviction before the rights of men, or a desire for fundamental democracy.

And whatever progress is made in this country must be made along lines fundamentally democratic—along lines which indicate the Christ view of the dignity of the individual. And in a dozen states where the Democratic party gets its majority—in the very heart of Democracy—there is a civilization essentially aristocratic. It is as far from fundamental democracy today as it was before the war. The South is not for any of those measures of social and industrial justice, nor for those principles of democratic government which are the soul and body of the progressive movement today in all the parties. The South does not believe in human rights—except class rights. The South does not believe in the essential dignity of every human soul, and its right to grow and express itself in this world in terms of happiness as a preparation for whatever destiny may await us in the next. The South is medieval in its creed; archaic in its politics. Here is a speech made by W. H. Swift, of Greensboro, N. C., the other day before the National Conference of Child Labor at New Orleans. Mr. Swift evidently has felt keenly the criticism that has been launched against the South generally and against his own state in particular owing to the treatment of children there, and this is his apology:

"We Southerners are not indifferent to the rights of childhood; perhaps we are victims of an accumulation of facts and circumstances over which we have not had control. As successors to the civilization of fifty years ago, we still feel that there is a difference in children, that the poor child was born to toil and should be set at it early. Our people always have been kind and charitable, but they have never been just. The children of the poor have been allowed to work because we have known or thought little of absolute human rights. Furthermore, we do not properly understand the laws of community progress or know what we are doing. We have no reliable data because there have been no investigations. Until recently we have resented any suggestion that we needed to learn. "We have allowed ourselves to

A Promising New Fruit For Southern California

(BY REGINALD BRINSMEAD, REGISTER STAFF WRITER.)

In the Fejoa (Fay-zhe-a) Sellowiana, or pineapple guava, is to be found not only a fruit of great commercial promise, but one which is also truly a "new fruit," one hitherto unknown upon the great markets of the world, uncultivated by the fruit grower. Closely allied to the guavas and of similar shrub-like growth, reaching a height of eight or ten feet; with fruits about the size and shape of a hen's egg, delicious to eat and susceptible of use in many ways; a great drought resister and capable of withstanding, without injury, a temperature of 10 degrees F., it undoubtedly has a great future before it.

The Fejoa is indigenous to Uruguay and Brazil, the first European introduction being made by the late Dr. Edouard Andre, who in 1890 brought back with him from La Plata, Brazil, one layered plant, which was set out in his garden on the French Riviera. The next introduction was not made until nine years later, when Bresson Freres of Nice made an importation of seed from Montevideo, Uruguay; the plants raised from these turning out to be a different type from those of be deluded because our manufacturers have said things were all right and we have respect for men of influence and wealth. If we have cried out against the bad rich, it has been because, in our opinions, most of the bad rich live next to Wall Street. To appoint an inspector for our own mill villages would be a reflection upon the word and character of good men!

"But, above all, the reason child labor continues is that the manufacturer wants the child in his mill. Since he considers child labor of such vital importance that he is willing to go to the legislature to fight for the right to work a child, you need not be surprised that we will permit a large percentage of our children to be taken from school and placed at work, and that on any work day in the cotton mills, week in and week out, hundreds of girls in short dresses may be found standing eleven hours."

There is the meat in the whole Democratic cocoon. It is caste and state's rights. With caste and state's rights holding a majority of the majority party, there is no hope for real progress in this nation. The whole idea of a revenue tariff is based on the idea of caste—cheap living for the well-to-do, and as for the others—let the devil take the hindmost. Now, the protective idea has been grossly prostituted by the privileged classes. It has been made grotesque and abominable by those who have used it as a cloak for robbery. But, nevertheless, the protective idea, scientifically and honestly administered, is the only hope we have in America of retaining our civilization based upon the dignity of labor and the essential rights of man. For we must forge ahead of the world. We have the right to what our schools and our free lands and our broad suffrage and our wide popular intelligence has given us. And competing with the ignorant peon labor of South America, the low class labor of Southern Europe, or the coolie labor of Asia, we cannot keep our laborers in the high estate to which we are trying to hold them. The tariff wall is our right and our salvation. And the Democratic party, believing in caste and all its subsidiary creeds, has no use for the tariff wall.

So we have child labor in the South; a protest against woman suffrage from the South; we have democratic institutions in the South such as the North is trying.

There is no hope in the Democratic party. It is the party of caste and class, in spite of the fine leadership of Mr. Wilson; in spite of the high calling of Mr. Wilson. There is no such thing as a progressive Democrat. There may be progressives in the Democratic party. But sooner or later they must leave disheartened, just as the Progressives had to leave the Republican party disheartened, when its control passed from the people to the machine, from fundamental democracy to privilege.

Today the hope of the nation is in the Progressive party. It compasses whatever there is of progressive thought, North, South, East, West. It has no other thought or following. It has not gathered all the good people together. It is composed of good and bad. But even the bad believe in progressive principles, or at least think that through them victory will come. The Progressives are in no hurry. They will win here and lose there for a time. But sooner or later their day will dawn.

Spain and Italy: The Fejoa is practically unknown in Spain and Italy. There are, however, a few bearing plants along the Spanish Mediterranean coast, and the Italian Riviera.

West Indies-Hawaii: It is a new fruit on all of these islands, not having yet been long enough introduced to have been thoroughly tested out; but it is believed that the strictly tropical conditions there found are not well adapted to its best fruiting. On the Isle of Pines, Cuba, two plants set out in 1906 made a growth of 4 feet in height and 6 feet in spread in six years, but had not borne fruit to the time.

At the Hawaiian experiment station in Honolulu a Fejoa several years old is reported to be in a thrifty condition, but, as with the specimens on the Isle of Pines, failed to fruit at an early age.

Florida: The Fejoa has not yet proved a success in Florida. In the southern part of the state, where early plantings were made at Gotha and in the federal subtropical park at Miami, although the plant makes splendid growth, it either throws a small inferior fruit or is quite unproductive. It may, however, prove of greater value in the northern part of the state; a matter which only experimentation can prove.

England: Here the Fejoa has been grown, but only with great care and difficulty. It is not a success as a fruiting shrub, although it has been successfully trained against a south wall. Unless great care is taken to "harden" the young growth it is likely to be killed by the first heavy frosts.

The fact that it will grow in England certainly emphasizes its hardiness; on the other hand it further proves that it requires a warmer climate such as that to be found in Southern California in order to be an important commercial success.

South America: In Uruguay the Fejoa grows wild and is quite commonly found in the forests. It is also found in the wild state in Western Paraguay, Southern Brazil and some parts of the Argentine. The shrubs are seldom cultivated, but the fruit is extensively used for making jams, jellies, preserves, etc.

The cultivation of the Fejoa is, then, of very recent origin, its commercial growth as yet but in its infancy. Associations of the fruit

Andre bush may claim the parentage of the majority of the first California plantings. The seedlings from Dr. Franceschi's importation of 1901 have done uniformly well wherever planted in Southern California, and have abundantly demonstrated "the fact that California is pre-eminently adapted for their growth; even more so than is southern France, where the Fejoa has proved a great success. Tests and plantings have also been made at Santa Rosa, Cal., and as far north as Eugene, Oregon, and the plants have done well in both places. The largest of the early plantings made in California is that on the Henry E. Huntington estate, near Pasadena, where four acres were set out to the Fejoa.

A brief review of the history and status of the Fejoa in other countries and sections of the globe clearly points to the inherent possibilities and commercial promise it offers for production in California.

France: Although the Fejoa was first introduced into France, and its possibilities and values were there first recognized, and although it has now been grown there for nearly 20 years, it has not yet reached a position of any commercial importance.

The merits of the fruit, the beauty of the plant, its adaptability for growth in many sections of the country, all have been conceded wherever it is known; but the conservatism of the French gardener and fruit grower, who is well satisfied with those fruits he is already producing successfully, have made him more than willing that "the other fellow" should do the experimental work for him, and has greatly checked its wide introduction. Many noted French authorities have, however, expressed great faith in it as a coming fruit for growth in the French Riviera, and M. Vivand-Morel, the noted horticultural authority and writer, believes that the Fejoa will in time prove an important commercial fruit, not only along the Riviera and along the Mediterranean coast, but also in Provence and south and west France.

Spain and Italy: The Fejoa is practically unknown in Spain and Italy. There are, however, a few bearing plants along the Spanish Mediterranean coast, and the Italian Riviera.

The cultivation of the Fejoa is, then, of very recent origin, its commercial growth as yet but in its infancy. Associations of the fruit while varying to some extent, all agree as to its excellence and true worth. It grows to about the size of a hen's egg and usually of about the same shape, is green in color, sometimes tinged with crimson. The fruits from young bushes are as a rule smaller and of poorer flavor than those produced upon mature plants; and from the fact that so many plants have been propagated from seeds there is naturally considerable difference in that produced upon individual bushes.

The following opinions of experts in the horticultural world are not only of interest but well worth considering:

Vivand-Morel says: "I find those I have eaten paired, with sugar, delicious. I compare them, in a certain measure, to our large garden strawberries. The odor is very agreeable." Dr. Andre, writing in 1899, said: "The pulp is abundant, clear, of the consistency of a 'Butter Pear,' of a creamy white, and the savor approaches very much that of the strawberry, according to everyone who has tasted it. There are some seeds, but rare. The aroma was so intense that it filled the whole room in which they were placed, and the basket which held them is perfumed to this very hour."

Writing in the Revue Horticole, H. Daubigny says: "The flavor is slightly acid and very agreeable, rather vinous, and the odor something like that of the banana and also the strawberry. It is certainly a good exotic fruit to add to tables richly served."

Writing in 1909, Prof. E. J. Wickson (California Fruits p 335) says: "The highly perfumed fruit, about one and a half to two inches or more in length, comes in November. The flavor is delicious, like the strawberry, but lacking the acid. The seeds are very small, almost unnoticeable; quite a contrast in this respect to the guava."

More recently F. W. Poppenoe, of Altadena, has written of the fruit as follows: "The fruits are about the size and shape of a hen's egg, green in color, with sometimes a touch of crimson on one cheek. Next to the skin is a layer of granular flesh, which surrounds a quantity of white, translucent melting pulp, in which the seeds are imbedded. The fruit is one of the most delicious imaginable, combining the flavor of the pineapple, raspberry and banana. This flavor combined with the aromatic odor which the fruits possess, is sure to be a winning combination. The seeds are from thirty to fifty in number, and so small that they cannot be felt in the mouth, being in fact no larger than strawberry or fig seeds. The fruit is commonly eaten out of hand, but it can be cooked almost any way, crystallized, made into jams or jellies, or prepared in numerous other forms, in any of which it is delicious. The season of ripening is from November to January. The fruits keep a remarkable length of time, and can be shipped to any part of the country in perfect condition."

Aside from its possibilities for commercial plantings, and these are undoubtedly great, the Fejoa makes a handsome ornamental shrub—in fact is grown in Europe as a pot plant for its handsome foliage and blossom. In combination with other suitable fruit or nut bearing trees the Fejoa would prove to lend itself to any scheme or plan of profitable street tree planting in this state, for it is an evergreen with handsome foliage and producing

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Advertisement.

a profusion of brilliant flowers in May, silvery white in color with a tuft of crimson stamens tipped with golden anthers. While doing best only where it receives the best of care it yet will grow well with little water and but moderate cultivation, which should make it a valuable addition to our country sidewalk or roadside plantings. It will also make a very handsome hedge.

It can be propagated by seed, cuttings, budding, layering, grafting and inarching. In California it has done well on both sandy loam and heavy clay or adobe. In its culture it has been found to require irrigating about as often as the orange and lemon but during blossoming it should not be watered more than absolutely necessary. Requiring ample humus for its best growth, liberal quantities of manure well repay their cost. Seedling plants have frequently started to bloom when two years old, although as a rule it does not come into bearing until three or four years old.

Without question the Fejoa, under California methods of propagation, selection and culture, will reach a great state of perfection; and the fact that it will flourish under conditions which are unfavorable to the profitable growth of citrus fruits should make it a valuable addition to the list of fruits throughout the California thermal belt. It is well worth trial by all who are in a position to do so; but in planting out it is advisable to set out several in close proximity, as isolated specimens in some instances have proven unproductive, probably from lack of foreign pollen and consequent imperfect pollination.

The Fejoa requires but little pruning, needing little more than careful shaping when young, as it is often of open and spreading growth. The fruit is produced on young wood, and this will largely dominate or direct any method of pruning deemed advisable. Where set out in commercial plantings the planting should be made from 15 to 18 feet apart.

"CLEAN-UP" WEEK

Civic Organizations and Ebell Club Heartily Endorse the Movement

The "Clean-Up Week" Movement has been heartily endorsed by the Ebell executive board, the Chamber of Commerce, the City Trustees, and other organizations, looking toward making Santa Ana a "spotless" town. Dr. J. I. Clark, city health officer, approves the clean-up idea and recommends that all refuse be removed, the alleys cleaned, barn-yards and backyards be put in sanitary condition and every cause tending to produce illness be given attention.

Following is the resolution adopted by the Ebell executive board:

WHEREAS, a movement has been started in the southern counties of the state to make the week, April 20 to 26, a clean-up week; therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the executive board of the Ebell Society of the Santa Ana Valley heartily endorses the movement; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Ebell executive board petition the Chamber of Commerce, the City Trustees and the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Santa Ana to lend assistance by adopting resolutions calling upon the citizens to cut the weeds upon their lots, remove refuse and put their premises in a clean and sanitary condition.

Present Day Club

An unusually thoughtful and carefully prepared paper was read before the Present Day Club last evening at its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hickox. The subject was "What is Higher Criticism?" and the writer was Mr. Charles H. Stearns. Mr. Stearns showed that much popular misunderstanding exists as to the nature of "criticism," that the word does not at all imply "finding fault," but is a thoroughly positive and constructive method of ascertaining the meaning of the Bible. Mr. Stearns' sympathetic and wholly constructive treatment of his theme, reinforced by the use of effective analogies, gave his hearers a new and broader conception of this interesting trend in modern Bible study. A very interesting discussion followed the reading of the paper.

Plan European Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rafferty and Miss C. E. Dresser are planning another pleasant trip to Europe and expect to leave in about a month. Mr. Rafferty's mother, Mrs. Lucinda Rafferty, of Los Angeles, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hulsey, of Los Angeles, will be met in Europe, but the meeting will be a complete surprise to the others as the Raffertys have kept their plans an entire secret. Miss Edna Schlicher, formerly of Santa Ana, will travel with the Los Angeles party, which leaves soon.

No definite time has been set for the end of the tour in Europe, as the Raffertys and Miss Dresser will take all the time necessary to see points of interest in their itinerary, which is tentative and can be shaped to suit their desires.

Had Interesting Program

Travel Section No. 2 of the Ebell Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Louise Scarborough. The meeting was called to order by the chairman, Mrs. C. E. French, the usual preliminaries, such as roll call and reading of the minutes, preceding the program.

A paper on Buenos Ayres was read by Mrs. J. E. Liebig, followed by a paper on Argentina by Mrs. C. E. Laumie. Mrs. J. H. Thompson read an interesting letter from a brother-in-law, who is making a trip around the world and who is now in Canton, China.

Mrs. Scarborough served dainty refreshments at the close of the excellent program, assisted by Mrs. E. B. Burns. Pink roses were used in the decorations of the house.

Reception Postponed

The reception planned by Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy to be given tomorrow for the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Messiah, has been postponed indefinitely, owing to the indisposition of Mrs. Pomeroy.

"FOREVER UPWARD"

"Chance cannot touch me! Time cannot hasten me! Fear, hope, and longing, at strife, Sink as I rise, on, on, upward forever, Gathering strength, gaining breath—naught can sever Me from the Spirit of Life!"

A May-Basket Dollar Tea

The ladies of the Methodist Church, South, will hold their annual dollar tea, at which each of the visiting ladies will contribute a dollar, at the home of Mrs. W. T. Kirven, 1522 Bush street, on Wednesday afternoon. They have issued the following poetical invitation:

This week on Wednesday afternoon, And be sure you try to come real soon.

At Mrs. Kirven's home there's going to be A May-basket missionary tea.

We surely want you to come this time, For it's going to be unusually fine, Come, bring your husbands and sweethearts, too.

We shall look for every one of you, But listen—and don't attempt to holler— We want you to come and bring a dollar.

I'm told, with the money 'tis the ladies' wish, To buy for the church some nice new dishes.

We all like banquets and enjoy a feast, So to this good cause your dollars bequeath.

A smaller coin, I suppose, might do, And we all will say, many thanks to you.

First Travel Section

The First Ebell Travelers met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. W. Van Cleave on Halesworth street. A pleasant hour was spent over an entertaining article on the Holy Land in this month's Geographic Magazine. A pleasant social hour, during which the hostess and her daughter, Miss Carol Van Cleave, served a dainty luncheon to the guests, brought the afternoon to a close.

The next meeting will be held on the first Monday in May at the home of Mrs. Visel.

For the Little Folks

Miss Rosa Boyd and Mrs. Lee Daniel yesterday afternoon entertained the Junior Auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah. The young girls of the auxiliary and a few small brothers who were especially asked for the occasion, enjoyed a merry romp on the Boyd lawn, and were afterwards given a happy little feast of the good things that children like most. The long table was graced by a bowl overflowing with Cecil Bruner roses. The rector, Rev. Rufus H. Chase, and Mrs. Chase were also present.

Bridge-Luncheon

A bridge-luncheon was the smart affair with which Mrs. P. B. Case of 626 North Broadway entertained on Saturday. The luncheon, served at 1 o'clock, was most attractively arranged, being centered with fairy-like mustard sprays mingled with delicate maidenhair ferns. Places were marked for Mrs. Davis and Miss Pauline Davis of Los Angeles; Mrs. R. H. Sanborn and Miss Hyatt of San Gabriel; Mrs. Jack Porter and Mrs. Collins of Orange; Robert Reid, Mrs. James S. Rice, Mrs. Samuel Nau, Mrs. E. R. Maury of Tustin; Mesdames Robert Simon, Fred Case, Hiram Connell, Ben Turner, John Tubbs, Will Malone of Santa Ana, and the hostess, Mrs. Case. Auction bridge was the entertaining diversion of the afternoon, Mrs. James S. Rice winning high score with its accompanying prize, and the consolation souvenir falling to Mrs. John Tubbs.

Unitarian Supper

The ladies of the Unitarian church will give a supper at the church on Friday evening from 6 to 7:30 o'clock, to which the public is cordially invited. The supper given by the Unitarian ladies are deservedly popular.

HER NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. Ramsdale Receives Social Honors from Ladies' Guild of Episcopal Church

When one has lived to the good old age of ninety years and is still erect and vigorous and full of interest in life, it is rightfully considered an event worth celebrating. And in such an event, when one has a host of good friends as has Mrs. E. Ramsdale of 642 Ross street, the celebration is sure to be forthcoming. So the Wollaston home on Ross street, where Mrs. Ramsdale resides with her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Wollaston, was the scene of a most interesting social function on Saturday afternoon last, the ladies of the Woman's Guild of the church of the Messiah gathering there to honor Mrs. Ramsdale's ninetieth birthday. It was all a complete surprise to Mrs. Ramsdale, as the ladies had kept their secret well. Mrs. Wollaston and the other members of the family were of course sharers in the secret, so that it was made easy for the Episcopal ladies to carry out the kindly plan.

There were good wishes, loving congratulations, gifts and fragrant flowers galore bestowed on the estimable honoree of the occasion. She enjoyed all of them, but especially appreciated the loving thought that had prompted the offerings and the social courtesy. Bouquets of lovely flowers were presented in profusion, including one of ninety pale pink carnations sent by the Guild, and a dainty arrangement of ferns and forget-me-nots from Dr. Waffle, Confectionery, orange sticks, sheer and dainty handkerchiefs, and other gifts of perhaps greater value but of the same loving significance, were among the remembrances. One of the cherished gifts was a silver deposit vase from Rev. and Mrs. Rufus S. Chase, the rector of the church and his wife. Letters and cards were fairly showered on Mrs. Ramsdale.

At 5 o'clock tea was served and the happy company gathered around a table, prettily appointed and adorned with two or three of the lovely bouquets of flowers that had been received by Mrs. Ramsdale, who sat at the head of the table and cut the handsomely decorated cake, which, with a pretty silver thimble enclosed, was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy. It was greatly regretted that Mrs. Pomeroy, who is president of the Guild, was retained at home by indisposition and was unable to be present. When the delicious sandwiches and cake were served, the ladies had been properly discussed. Mrs. Ramsdale successfully blew out the candles adorning the birthday cake, thereby being assured of getting her own wish and the good wishes of the guests made for her at that moment. Rev. Mr. Chase then assisted her in slicing the delicious cake, and in the process, Mrs. Ramsdale secured the silver thimble in the very slice that seemed intended for her. There was great merriment over her success, and no one was more pleased than she. Indeed, the entire afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by Mrs. Ramsdale, and when adieus were said after tea, she showed no signs of fatigue, and was able yesterday to take an extended automobile ride.

Those who had the pleasure, besides the honoree, Mrs. Ramsdale, of being present Saturday afternoon were Rev. and Mrs. Rufus S. Chase; Mesdames C. P. Kryhl, Newton Pierce, Walter Eden, J. H. Martin, S. M. Dearling, Frank E. Oliver, Rensberg, Letby, A. A. Barrett, Smith, McWhitty, Robert Corbett, W. Whitham, Abner Roberts, Goddard Ethel Hart, Lillian Wollaston; Miss Murdy, Miss Dollie Hart.

ORANGE COUNTY CONVENTION OF W.C.T.U. $500 IS NEEDED FOR SPANISH MISSION

Opening Session Well Attended—Fine Program—Flowers Decked Church

Addition Planned for to Meet Necessities—Pledges Are Acknowledged

The Orange County W.C.T.U. met in convention this morning at 10 o'clock in the United Presbyterian church. The church has been made attractive with many beautiful roses, ferns, carnations, etc. The pulpit is beautiful in white and green and with many of the different unions' banners displayed. A large banner, "California Dry in 1914," is among the decorations; also a large flag made from signed temperance cards, by the Presbyterian Sunday school, is on exhibition on the platform. Miss Frances Willard's picture, placed on an easel and entwined with plumed ferns and a large bow of white ribbon, stands prominently on the platform. The ladies' parlor is decorated with elegant pink rose buds. The dining room is cheery with an abundance of yellow bloom. The ladies who had the decorations in charge are Mrs. John McFadden, Mrs. J. T. Raitt, Mrs. J. H. Rankin, Mrs. J. M. Raugh, Mrs. George Post and Mrs. Elizabeth Davis. The committee on entertainment consists of Mrs. W. E. Ward, Mrs. C. D. Shields, Mrs. M. E. Shaw, Mrs. H. Paris, Mrs. J. E. Kellogg.

The meeting opened with an attendance of nearly 100 present. The morning devotion was led by Mrs. B. C. Cory of Orange. The following committees were appointed: Pages—Mrs. Hope Garnett, Miss Florence Miller. Reporters—Mrs. Lea Warren, Register; Mrs. M. E. Shaw, Blade; a reporter from each union when there is a paper, appointed by that union. White Ribbon—Elizabeth Miller. Resolutions—Miss Lizzie Mills. Mrs. Frances Paine, Mrs. Foster. Credentials—Mrs. Maggie Rawlings, Mrs. Viola Norman, Mrs. E. P. Stafford. Time Keeper—Mrs. S. M. G. Brown.

Courtesies—Mrs. Gervais, Mrs. C. W. Burns. Mrs. Lea Warren, hostess of the Santa Ana union, gave the welcome speech for the visiting delegates and Mrs. C. H. Owen, president of Anaheim union, responded with a very hearty speech.

Reports of the county officers were given as follows: Mrs. Lea Warren, recording secretary; Mrs. D. Gervais, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Alma J. Kellogg, treasurer; Mrs. Horace McPhee, auditor. Campaign songs are being used at intervals in the convention.

The presidents of the different unions of the county gave "Their Outlook," which brought out some splendid work being done throughout the county; and the outlook for campaign work in all unions is good.

Mrs. Lucy Blanchard, state president of the W.C.T.U., and Mrs. Stella B. Irvine, national superintendent of Sunday School Temperance, are present for the convention, and were greeted with the Chautauqua salute, and responded with a few remarks.

The president, Mrs. Rogers gave the president's message and introduced Mrs. Viola Norman, who spoke on the Silver Anniversary, as this is the twenty-fifth anniversary. Mrs. Norman reviewed the work from the beginning of the organization, and presented Mrs. Rogers with a gavel, made from orange-wood, in Mrs. Norman's old home. Mrs. Norman also presented the county with 25 silver dollars to be used in the campaign work as a donation from the unions of the county. This silver offering will be used to the best advantage in the campaign work.

Mrs. Stella B. Irvine led in noon-time prayer. The afternoon session will have several good addresses. The public is invited to all the sessions. The lunch for the delegates was served in the basement of the church by the Ladies' Aid of the United Presbyterian church.

Why It Suits Particular People

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is prompt and effective for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, bronchial coughs and for any condition where the membranes of the throat and bronchial tubes are inflamed and raw. Thomas Verron, Hancock, Mich., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar has always proven effective, quickly relieving tickling throat and stopping the cough, with no bad after-effect." It contains no opiates, and is a pure, reliable medicine. That's why it suits particular people. Wingood's Drug Store.—Advertisement.

From the Los Angeles Financial News

Use of the Telephone

There are more telephones in Los Angeles than in the whole of Italy and there are two-thirds more telephones in use in Los Angeles than in the city of Liverpool, although the latter is three times as large as the first named. These figures are obtained from an address delivered in New York by T. Comerford Martin, secretary of the National Electric Light Association and special officer of the Census Bureau of the United States. His topic was "Government Ownership of the Telephones." In the course of his address he said:

"The telephone industry is rarely growing at all, and there is one very good reason for that in the fact that we make such an enormous use of the telephone. I have recently been reading some figures and statistics from Washington purporting to come from the Postmaster-General, and pointing out how vastly greater is the use of the telephone than they make in England than they do in this country. Well, God bless them, they can have it. I was over in Paris last October, and tried for hours to use the government telephone system. I might just as well have tried to talk to the moon. Instead of continuing my efforts, I either took a taxi or sent some of those little letters that they call petit bleu, and they go there every time, with more or less delay, of course, consequent on being Government service."

"In London I had a luncheon engagement with some twelve or fourteen central station managers of that city. The Government has taken over the telephone system. There was a slight change of hours necessary in my arrangements for that luncheon, and for two hours a friend and myself tried to reach the different gentlemen and notify them of the change of time. At last, in sheer disgust, we threw it up and sent taxicabs for them. That is the kind of service that the distinguished Postmaster-General in Washington is recommending to us."

"I want to give you a few figures which I think will be illustrative of the point that I am making. They are very significant. London is three times as large as Chicago and has fewer telephones. Paris is twice as large as Boston and has only one-half as many. Liverpool is three times as large as Los Angeles and has barely one-third as many telephones. Birmingham, that great industrial throbbing heart of England, has over 500,000 population, with 4000 fewer telephones than Grand Rapids, Mich., which has only 140,000 people. In all of France there are fewer telephones than in Chicago. In Russia there are fewer telephones than in Philadelphia, and Heaven knows that is saying a good deal, when even here in our own country we speak of the Hudson tube as the "road to yesterday." In Italy, in all of Italy—and that is a pretty progressive country, even if some of the most enterprising citizens do occasionally look in on us—there are fewer telephones than in Los Angeles. There are more telephones in Toledo, O., than in all Spain. And there are more telephones in Kansas City than the whole of Belgium. And all the telephones in this country have been developed by our own individualism and private enterprise, and every one of those countries has got a Government system, and we are recommended to adopt it."

Price Current Crop Report

The Cincinnati Price Current, in its issue this week, reviewing crop conditions, says:

"Based on information secured from correspondents on April 2, 3 and 4, the soil condition is reported extremely favorable to the winter wheat plant for spring plowing and seeding plant. The percentage of seeding which has been done in spring wheat is as follows. Illinois and Wisconsin, 18 per cent; Iowa, 41; Nebraska, 39, and Kansas, 100. Basing the crop of last spring at 100, the percentage comparison of crop this spring is: Ohio, 96; Indiana, 98; Illinois, 96; Wisconsin, 117; Missouri, 92; Iowa, 89; Minnesota, 98; South Dakota, 94; Nebraska, 84; Kansas, 71; Oklahoma, 94.

"Slaughtering of hogs went for the week, 335,000 vs. 327,000 the previous week, and 471,000 one year ago. Total from March 1 is 2,111,000 vs. 2,117,000 last year."

Why Listen?

Why listen to a tale of shame
That tarnishes another's name?
Why lend an ear to those who bring
Their slanders, which like vipers sting?
For calumny would surely die
Forever hid from human eye
If none by listening would consent
To slanderous tales, on mischief bent.

It may be some one missed the way,
Who never meant to go astray,
Whose anxious heart still seeks for light,
To guide it in the paths of right.
Or else perchance, these tales of wrong
Assail a life both pure and strong;
Touching it with a withering blight,
More deadly than a serpent's bite.

Since from vile seeds vile harvests grow,
And we must gather what we sow;
Since the partaker, and the thief,
Must share alike in guilt and grief,
When slander like a venomous dart
Would pierce its victim to the heart,
The listener is as much to blame
As he who tells the tale of shame.

Shortest Railroad in World

California has the shortest municipal street railway system in the world. The system is located in Oakland and its total "mileage" is 391 feet. The line was built by the city of Oakland as the connecting link between the two ends of a street car system in order to give cross-town facilities. The line has been leased by the city to a local company at the rate of $1 a foot a year.

About Mining Corporations

The Highland Mary National Mining Company of Reno, Nev., has been incorporated with a capital of $200,000, shares being of the par value of $1 each.

With a capital of $5,000,000 the Superior Arizona Development Company of Phoenix, Ariz., has been incorporated. Directors and officers are Coloma M. Stoddard, M. A. Pickett and J. B. Girard.

Long Beach Banker Hurt

While on a fishing trip in Santa Ana Canyon, P. E. Hatch, president of the National Bank of Long Beach, met with a severe accident, a giant boulder rolling over his foot, crushing the upper portion of the foot as also the toes. He was removed to his home. Surgeons say the foot will be saved.

It has finally been decided to hold the power bond election in Los Angeles, when voters will decide upon an issue of $6,500,000 bonds, on May 8 instead of May 5 as originally intended. The change in date was due to the fact that the recall election involving Supervisor Norton must be held May 5.

Passenger for Each Seat

In view of differences between passengers for San Pedro and the Pacific Electric Company, the former demanding a seat or no fare, the trouble always occurring during rush hours, the story of an Illinois town may be cited, as it throws a great deal of light upon a subject that has been the cause of many, many differences between patron and corporation. Here is the story which is apropos:

"Out in Joliet, Ill., the city council wanted the street railway company to run enough cars to give a seat to each passenger even in the rush hours. The company came back by asking the council to furnish a passenger for each seat throughout the day. The company stated that in the all-day operation of its cars there were available for the use of passengers 40,114 seats, while the company only carried 13,113 passengers a day so that, in fact, the company averaged throughout the day three seats for each passenger, with 775 seats over. For two periods of the day the cars were crowded, and the remainder of the time they ran practically empty. The officials of the company told the council: 'Our franchise requires that we run cars at regular intervals throughout the day, whether there is business for them or not. Our expenses remain the same. The wages per car per hour average about 52 cents, not to mention other expenses. Now, if we could reduce the number of cars during the day when there is not much travel, we could then accord to put on extra cars during the rush hours.'"

Prosperity of California

That California is prospering more than ever is shown by report of the California Development Board which says "the total value of all California products for the year 1913 aggregates $1,119,900,252. The estimated value of the soil products of this State during last year is $554,651,202. Petroleum returns show a gain of $5,000,000 over 1912, while the total mineral products indicate an increase of $8,000,000. Prospects for 1914 are said to be most promising. Large crops of all kinds are expected. Reports from all parts of the State are more encouraging than they have been for years."

New Counterfeit Bill

Discovery of a new $10 counterfeit national bank note on the Crocker National Bank of San Francisco is announced by the secret service. The counterfeit is of the series of 1902-1908, and is printed from photo-etched plates, and the back of the note is very blotchy. It should not deceive experienced handlers of money, the secret service states. It is a second edition of the counterfeit $10 note on the same bank, the first being issued on October 10, 1911.

L. A. I. Is Given Deed

Directors of the Los Angeles Investment Company on Wednesday completed the deal with the Baldwin heirs, the directors paying over $216,000 due on the 500-acre tract next February, and in return for pre-payment get an extension of time on payment of interest and principal toward the purchase of the 3126-acre tract. A deed to the 500 acres was given the company.

Horses Are Increasing

Despite the fact that the automobile is supplanting the horse for many uses, there were 20,962,000 horses in the country on January 1, 1914, an increase over the number at the same date in 1913 of 1.9 per cent.

"Where Nature Helps Industry Most"

The Industrial Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has chosen the slogan in its campaign to locate factories in Los Angeles: "Los Angeles—Where Nature Helps Industry Most."

The Peters Investment Company of San Diego has filed a petition in the Superior Court of San Diego County to create a bonded indebtedness of $500,000 and to pledge the holdings of the company as security. The petition was signed by Henry T. Woodward, president; Homer H. Peters, Jr., secretary, and E. D. Rood, a director of the company.

Tehama County Board of Supervisors has decided to provide for the sale of $50,000 in bonds to cover State highway construction in that county.

Long Beach has municipal bond issues aggregating $1,250,000 for sale; $200,000 worth were disposed of Friday.

San Bernardino has started a campaign for resubmission of the question of voting $1,750,000 bonds for State highway.

But one bid having been received for the purchase of the $425,000 issue of bonds for sewer, incinerator and Devil's Gate pier, Long Beach, the same will be readvertised for sale, bids to be opened May 1.

Three million dollars' worth of State highway bonds were sold Monday by State Treasurer Roberts. W. W. Bassett, cashier of the Capital National Bank, Sacramento, representing several California counties, bid in the bonds at par and accrued interest. Among the counties that took bonds were the following:

Alameda	$200,000
Butte, Shasta and Tehama	800,000
Colusa	241,000
Humboldt	150,000
Imperial	100,000
Kern	60,000
Mendocino	150,000
Orange	200,000
San Benito	100,000
Siskiyou	50,000
Solano	150,000
Tuolumne	75,000
Ventura	150,000
Hibernian Savings Bank, San Francisco	100,000
State Board of Control	324,000

Pasadena may have to call another school bond election to meet the deficit of $25,000 which the city Board of Education now face. The deficit is due to attempt to keep maximum school tax to 30 cents on each $100 valuation.

Seal Beach school bonds recently voted by that city have been purchased by the Crown City National Bank of Pasadena.

Chico will hold an election the latter part of May, when a proposition to bond the district for $60,000 for an auxiliary high school will be voted on.
